KANSAS CITY, July 5 .- There was

Kansas City, July 5.—There was no special feature in today's observance of the Fourth here. The day was devoted generally to amusement seeking. One murder and one case of drowning occurred besides the usual minor causualites.

In the El Dorado'caloon, on Ninth and Wyoming streets, in West Kansas City, Andy Parker, a railroad laborer, stabbed Fritz Gibben, the bar keeper, with a small pocket knife, in a dispute over the payment for a five cent cigar. Fritz Gibben died in four minutes. Parker was arrested. The other, however, appears to have been the aggressor, having first struck Parker twice.

LAWRENCE. LAWRENCE, July 5.—This was G. A. R. and A. O. U. W. day at Bismarck Grove. The procession was nearly a mile long and at 11 o'clock Gen. John A. Logan addressed fully 40,000 people.

He was introduced by General McDwitt, presiding officer of the day. As he stepped forward he was greeted with storms of applause.

Among the distinguished friends occupying seats on the platform were Col. Al Buckner, Capt. S. Stone, Adjutant General Campbell, Judge Usher, General McRutta, and Rev. Dr. Stevenson.

The Modoc club, of Topeka, sang Hail Flag of the Free, and then General Logan spoke in brief as follows:

It is a pleasure to meet with you upon these grounds. I come not as a member of any association, but to give such thoughts as may occur to me. A century of experiments in this country has proven that our fathers did good work. (He was several times interrupted by the band, and said:) I tried once to make a four days' speech, and as I have started on this I intend to

"You have a state fully developed in all respects. Your debt today doesn't reach $1,000,000; you have a state government seldom equaled, and an American people possessed of an energy and determination not found in any other nation. I presume that I will not have to apologize for saying what this war was about, but I am ashamed that there are people who tell their children to "hush" when asked anything about the rebellion. The scenes of that struggle can never be forgotten. The widows made, the orphans made, and the misery can never be absolutely pictured as it occurred. God bless the women who offered up prayers for the preservation of the Union. What are the prospects for the future? his famous lecture, "Echoes from Gettysburg," to a large audience this evening. About ten thousand people were present at Logan's reception, which took place from a raised platform erected on the side of the street. Judge J. H. Usher delivered an address of welcome. General Logan responded in a brief speech. He then repaired to Casby's rink, where he shook hands with upwards of 10,000 people.

John I. Mallone, of the book and ladder company, was severely cut in the shoulder by a plate glass. The origin of the fire is a mystery, as all the fires in the ranges were out. ATCHISON. July 5.—Atchison celebrated today. It was the most successful celebration ever known in this city, thousands coming from the interior to take part. The exercises were held at the city park. Gen. J. C. Caldwell, of Topeka, delivered the address of the day. In the evening Capt. M. G. Winiger's celebrated flambeau club case an exhibition of fire-works.

New York, July 5.—The Tammany society celebrated independence day as a body. The multitude began to assemble before 1 o'clock, and when the members Shoem fore 1 o'clock, and when the members marched in full to Tammany hall it was packed with people who sat through a programme of "long" and "short" takes, lasting four hours. Among the prominent persons present were Sonator Vance, Samuel J. Randall, J. Randolph Tucker, Gen. E. L. Viele, Congressmen Dowdney and McAdoo. Grand Sachem Henry P. Degree presided and the Declaration of Independence was read, after which the speaking began. The general sentiment was one of congratulation over the return of the Democratic party to power in the national government, and over the restoration more or less complete, of over the return of the Democratic party to bower in the national government, and over the restoration more or less complete, of ancient Democratic principles as particularly appropriate to an American independence celebration.

Each speaker dwelt upon one phase or another of the home rule contest abroad. A letter of regret from President Cleveland was read, in which he said: "I should be very giad to join those who on that occasion will renew their pledges of devotion to the principles for which the fathers of the principles for which the fathers of the same autonomy as is most certainly calculated to engender a spirit of love for enforcement promised prosperity and greatness to a free and victorious people."

Letters of regret were also read from Hon. S. J. Tilden, Gen. B. F. EMPORIA. July 5.—The races at the Emporia driving park were well attended to-day, there being about 1,500 people present. The 2:20 pacing race between Rockford and Nellie B. was won by the latter in three etraight heats; time 2:25.

The mile and a quarter race was won by Gallie Hale.

At the starting of the half mile dash Alec, owned by a drummer of Burlingame, by some means fell and cut his groin so as to probably disable him for racing purposes. At the finish of the mile and a quarter dash Ella Glentig held second, and as they dashed under the wire the rider of Bosworth crowded her into the sence pretty close, and Ella made a dash for the gap made by the bars being let down, but was struck by a corner of the sence, throwing her and pitching Louis Brewer, the rider, twelve years of age, over ber head on the course. His leg was severally cut. The horse was badly cut on the left force leg, and will be useless as a race horse if she recovers. She is owned by W. W. Stratton, of Wellington, and is valued at $2,000. The track was in splendid condition, and the races were hotly contested.
